DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 20 and 21, drawn to a process of making a magnetoresistance effect element including depositing a second ferromagnetic material, classified in class 29, subclass 603.14.
 - II. Claim 22, drawn to a process of making a magnetoresistance effect element including limiting electrical conduction between upper and lower magnetic layers, classified in class 29, subclass 593.
 - III. Claim 23, drawn to a process of making a magnetoresistance effect element including etching an insulating layer, classified in class 216, subclass 22.
 - IV. Claims 24, drawn to a process of making a magnetoresistance effect element including changing a crystal arrangement of first and second ferromagnetic layers, classified in class 219, subclass 121.12.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions of each of Groups I through IV are directed to related inventions of a process of making a magnetoresistance effect element. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, each Group has materially different effects of manufacturing, or at least one distinct materially different process step.

Art Unit: 3729

For example, Group I requires thrusting a needle from a top surface of an insulating layer and depositing a ferromagnetic material to form a second ferromagnetic layer, which are not required in Groups II through IV.

Group II requires limiting electrical conduction between upper and lower magnetic layers sandwiching an insulating layer to a region irradiated, which is not required in Groups I, III and IV.

Group III requires etching an insulating layer by supplying a reaction gas onto a surface of the insulating layer, which is not required in Groups I, II and IV.

Group IV requires changing a crystal arrangement of one of the first and second ferromagnetic layers by irradiating with an electron beam, which is not required in Groups I through III.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Ms. Nancy Connell on July 31, 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to A. Dexter Tugbang whose telephone number is 571-272-4570. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 8:30 am - 5:00 pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Peter Vo can be reached on 571-272-4690. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
